

Whether you are thinking of building a company around your business idea, want direct face time with the influencers in your industry, are looking to form a killer team to grow your latest idea, looking to join a killer team, wonder what all the fuss is about social media, cloud computing, CleanTech and other latest trends, need tools you can use to further your career, or perhaps switch to a brand new segment then you MUST attend TiEcon 2009 May 15th-16th at the Santa Clara Convention Center “Register Now” at TiEcon 2009 or website (www.tiecon.org).

History has shown that most successful companies were formed during a downtime. The current economic recession is prime time for floating new businesses around industry-shifting trends. For TiEcon 2009 we have crafted an agenda full of the most relevant topics of the day, with the leaders and experts in the industry to come and deliver them 16th time in a row this year.

The keynote speakers include:
Brad Smith, CEO Intuit,
Paul Maritz, CEO VMware,
Hans Morris, President, VISA Inc.,
Vivek Ranadive, Chairman & CEO TIBCO,
Reid Hoffman, Founder & CEO LinkedIn,
Itay Talgam, Conductor Israeli Music.

The conference features two panel sessions and two 3 hour PowerConnect limited seating lunch sessions on these 5 tracks – Internet Infrastructure, Wireless, CleanTech, Software and Consumer Web. In addition, the highly popular Business Bootcamp workshops are back featuring hot topics such as "Networking to a New Career and Vaulting into a New Job", and "Starting a Company in this Economy: Yes, You Can! The Lean Startup Guide" and many more...
